

Title: Deep Networks Architectures

•Abstract: Deep Networks are very successful for certain applications but face huge challenges in others. This talk will describe recent progress in understanding them, coupling them with other machine learning approaches such as random forests, transferring them to other domains, and learning them with limited supervision.